Being psychic is fun. I love it.

Every day in every way it I feel more comfortable using my psychic awareness.

I notice what my physical senses are telling me.

It becomes easier every day to pay attention to what my physical senses are experiencing.

As I increase my physical awareness, my psychic awareness grows stronger.

My skills grow easily and comfortably.

I receive psychic impressions at a comfortable rate for me.

My psychic impressions grow more and more accurate.

My psychic impressions become more clear and perceptible every time I use my intuition.

I attract opportunities to use my psychic awareness in delightful ways.

Information and resources come to me naturally that help me grow my psychic awareness both easily and safely.

I receive psychic impressions that are easily verifiable.

As my accuracy grows, so does my confidence in my abilities.

I attract people who appreciate my psychic abilities.

I attract only those people and situations that are for my highest good.

I recognize that not everyone is open to discussing the topic of intuition and psychic awareness, and that is okay.

I enjoy using my psychic awareness.

I find wonderful little ways to use my intuition to enhance my life.

As I grow psychically, I find it easier to ground myself.

The more I practice opening and diminishing my psychic awareness, the easier it becomes.

Every day I practice, I notice that it becomes easier to turn my psychic awareness on and off at will.

My psychic skills grow more accurate the more I play.

I enjoy playing with my abilities and find fun things to try.

It is delightful how naturally my psychic gifts develop.
